

The International Symposium of

Japan Society for the Promotion of Science,
Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (A)

*“Divergent Perspectives on America:
A Comparative Study of the Cases in Japan, Korea, and China”*

Head Investigator: Jun FURUYA

Looking Back on the Postwar Era from 2017

Conference Hall, 18th Bldg.
The University of Tokyo, Komaba
March 10, 2017

PM 1:00-1:10 Opening remarks

Professor Jun Furuya (Hokkai School of Commerce)

PM 1:10-1:40 Keynote speech

Professor Keiko Sakai (Chiba University)

“From al-Qaeda via ISIS to What?: Another Anarchy in the Middle East without the US Leadership”

PM 1:40-2:05

Professor Rob Kroes (University of Utrecht)

“Signs of Fascism Rising: A European Americanist looks at recent political trends in the U.S. and Europe”

PM 2:05-2:30

Professor David Farber (University of Kansas)

“President Trump and Right-Wing Populism in the United States”

PM 2:30-2:50

Professor Ken Ruoff (Portland State University)

“Trans-Pacific Right-Wing Populism and the Future of U.S.-Japan Relations”

PM 2:50-3:10 Break

PM 3:10-4:55 Panel discussion

Chair: Professor Fumiko Nishizaki (University of Tokyo)

PM 4:55-5:00 Closing remarks

Simultaneous Translation will be Provided

*Co-Sponsored by
Japan Society for the Promotion of Science, Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (B)
“Perspectives on Contemporary American Foreign Policy”
Head Investigator: Fumiko NISHIZAKI*

*Japan Society for the Promotion of Science, Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research on Innovative Areas
“Relational Studies on Global Crisis”
Head Investigator: Keiko SAKAI*

Center for Pacific and American Studies, The University of Tokyo