Slavica Ninic is a PhD student in Political Science at Kobe University Graduate School of Law. In 2012 she earned her MA in Political Science at the same graduate school. Between 2004 and 2008 she worked on international projects focusing on institutional capacity building of the Serbian labour market. Her main research interests today are IR theories and gender issues. Since September 2015 she has been Coordinator at Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA). She is actively involved in volunteering activities aiming at the promotion of cultural exchange and understanding, as well as support of persons from socially marginalized groups.
